WELCH MEMORIES

Old School

The first Welch Junior High was built in 1906. It was named after Adonijah S. Welch, the first president of I.S.U. Additions to the new school were put on in 1914, 1920, 1923, and the gym was built in 1930. The original site for Welch was located at 120 South Hyland. After the new building was built, and Welch was moved to the new site, the old building became an elementary building named in honor of John E. Harlan. He had served in that building as an elementary and junior high principal for twenty-nine years.

New School

The new school began construction in 1967. The building was going to include an art room, swimming pool, auditorium, classrooms and related facilities to comfortably handle 750 students, but the lack of bonding capacity made this unworkable, and the art room, auditorium, and swimming pool weren't included in the first contract. Only space for 550 students in the classroom area was included. Mr. Carlson has been the principal of Welch for 22 years.

Half Mast?

The space shuttle Challenger tragedy caused flags all around the country to be flown at half mast for a week in January.
